THE JFK ASSASSINATION: NEW DEVELOPMENTS

David Williams, Associate Editor

On Thursday, May 15, 1975, in Dallas, Texas, former Dallas Deputy Sheriff Roger Craig was found shot to death. A local homicide investigator said a rifle and a note were found near the body. He reported that the wound in Craig's upper right chest apparently was self-inflicted. There have however been three attempts to kill Roger Craig: in 1967, 1968, and 1973.

Warren Commission critics consider Craig to have been an important witness in the JFK assassination. He was one of the few Dallas policemen who spoke out and gave testimony that countered the official version.

Roger Craig reported that he heard the second and third shots being fired in rapid succession — inferring that they had to have come from different rifles. He also stated that he saw a man he later identified as Lee Harvey Oswald run down the grassy knoll along Elm St. some 15 minutes after the shooting. Craig said that Oswald then got into a light-colored station wagon that continued west on

I. The Implausibility of the Single Bullet Theory Calls into Question the Essential Findings of the Warren Commission

The widely discussed "single bullet" theory is seen by critics of the Warren Commission as essential to the finding that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone./1/ The Warren Commission said: "Although it is not necessary to any essential findings of the Commission to determine just which shot hit Governor Connally, there is very persuasive evidence from the experts to indicate that the same bullet which pierced the President's throat also caused Governor Connally's wounds. However, Governor Connally's testimony and certain other factors have given rise to some difference of opinion as to this probability but there is no question in the minds of any member of the Commission that all the shots which caused the President's and Governor Connally's wounds were fired from the sixth floor window of the Texas School Book Depository."/2/

A. The single bullet theory is essential to the Warren Commission's finding that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone.

The back/neck wound in President Kennedy and the wounds in Governor Connally, whether from the same or different bullets, occurred between frames 210 to 240 as shown by the Zapruder film/3/. This represents a time span, based on the 183 frames/second running speed of Zapruder's camera, of just over 16 seconds. The minimum firing time without aiming of Oswald's 6.5 millimeter Mannlicher-Carcano rifle was 2.3 seconds,/4/ precluding the possibility of separate shots from the same gun inflicting these wounds in the men.

B. A study of the evidence shows that it is highly improbable that President Kennedy and Governor Connally were struck by the same bullet.

1. The Zapruder film shows rather convincingly that the President and Governor Connally were struck by separate bullets.

The Warren Commission said that the wound in President Kennedy's neck was incurred between Zapruder frames 210 to 225./5/ It is apparent in frame 230 that the President has been shot and Governor Connally is still unharmed, holding his hat in his as yet uninjured right hand in a position higher than when it was struck./6/

Governor Connally, his wife, and his doctors/7/ believe he was hit by a separate, second shot. About the single bullet theory, Mr. Connally has said: "They talk about the 'one bullet' theory, but as far as I'm concerned, there is no 'theory'. There is my absolute knowledge, and Nellie's too, that one bullet caused the President's first wound, and that an entirely separate shot struck me."/8/

An analysis of the angle subtended by the line drawn along the shoulder and the line along the ear indicate that Governor Connally was struck between Zapruder frames 237 and 238./9/ Other involuntary responses indicating this as the location of the hit on Governor Connally include the puffing of his cheeks and the disarranging of his hair. According to Dr. Gregory there factors are consistent with involuntary physical reactions to a bullet hit./10/

2. Governor Connally's doctors believe the bullet which wounded him did not first pass through the President.

"Dr. Gregory indicated that both he and Dr. Shaw thought it highly unlikely that the President and the Governor had been hit by the same bullet."/11/ The doctors were influenced by the character of the wound being very small and having clean-cut edges/12/ and the fact that there were no cloth fibers in the back wound (as opposed to their presence in his wrist) in reaching the conclusion that the bullet which struck Connally had not struck Kennedy first.

3. Government reports also support this evidence of separate bullets.

Preliminary Special Dallas Report No. 1, Assassination of the President, prepared by the Secret Service said that the President was shot and "Immediately thereafter Governor Connally ... was shot."/13/ The FBI, in its five-volume report presented to the Warren Commission on Dec. 9, 1963, contained similar conclusions./14/

4. The vertical and horizontal trajectories necessary for a single bullet to have wounded both men from the Depository window at a downward trajectory of 17 degrees are not plausibly established by the evidence.

An examination of the photograph contained in the Commission's final report reportedly demonstrating the bullet path of the single bullet theory shows a trajectory originating from the left (rather than the right) rear and in a vertical angle less than 17 degrees. Furthermore, such a bullet would be exiting from below the President's throat./16/ When examining the trajectories of the wounds and the bullet flight paths according to the Commission's report discrepancies arise.

"According to the commission theory, a bullet entered the upper right side of the President's back and emerged at the midline of the anterior throat, grazing the left side of the knot of the President's tie as it emerged."/17/ The bullet was then supposed to have entered Governor Connally's back, exiting below the right nipple of his chest and then crushing his wrist and lodging in his knee.

To do this, the bullet would have had to make an acute turn to the right in mid air before entering Governor Connally, which is virtually impossible.

From evidence obtained from an examination of the President's brain, an explanation of the smaller throat wound is made. It is believed to have been an exit wound for a piece of bone that was caused by the second head shot. This is consistent with the damage to the President's throat and also the fact that no traces of metal were found on the President's shirt or tie./18/ It this is true, then the single bullet theory has no credibility because there was no other bullet exit in the front of the President.

Exhibit 399, the pristine bullet, believed by the Commission to have caused the non-fatal wounds to President Kennedy and Governor Connally, is inconsistent with tests of like bullets in similar circumstances./19/

The bullet which supposedly went through both the President and the Governor, shattering two bones in the process shows no deformity in the upper 2/3 of its length. There is a small loss of lead at the base of the bullet but the copper jacket remains intact. This is inconsistent with the amount of metallic particles which were found in the wounds./20/

On November 21, Jim Garrison issued a statement commenting on this refusal, which is Article 4 of this set; Article 1 is an introduction; Articles 2 and 3 are opening statements to the trial jury, by Jim Garrison, Prosecutor, and F. Irving Dymond, attorney for the defendant, in the February 1969 trial of Clay Shaw in New Orleans; Clay Shaw was charged by the grand jury with "having conspired with David W. A review of the evidence (including 18 photographs) proves that Oswald was a patsy, and that he was "framed" for the murder of President Kennedy — although "establishmentese" American history denies it.

How Jim Garrison, District Attorney of New Orleans, was tried on false charges brought by the U.S. Department of Justice that he received bribes; how the trial proceeded — making use of a bought judge, fabricated evidence, and spliced tapes; how the jury found Garrison innocent on the first ballot; and how the United States press almost entirely suppressed the true story — constituting evidence of a continuing conspiracy by a portion of the establishment in the United States.
